

A photograph of a residential property. In the foreground, a dark-colored SUV is parked on the left. The property features a large, two-story house with dark shingle siding and a light-colored foundation. A wooden fence runs along the property line. Several mature trees stand in the background, and a smaller cluster of young trees is in the foreground. A blue tarp is spread out on the ground near the base of one of the young trees. The sky is clear and blue.
